

Feudalism

Monarchs

They were either king or queen and they were in charge of the country. They provide land for the lords that help him or her on military services.

Lords

The lords are supposed to say the loyalty oath to the king or queen, so then he or she can trust them and give them land to live in. The lords are rich people that guy stuff for the monarch.

Knights

knights were powerful men who fought in the army. They survive by getting hired by the lords. They must fight and protect the lords and in return the lords would give them shelter and food.

Peasants

Peasants are poor people that don't have any money, so they survive by serving the lords and help them grow crops and feed them, and in return The Lords would give them part of his land. The peasants are the 2nd lowest people in feudalism, the lowest people are slaves.
